

The Merry Month of May

May month is the stepping stone into Summer from the Spring. Covering trees with fragrant blossom and feathered friends are on the wing. Time to hang up overcoat and scarf get outside now and explore. There is a wealth of interest there Lying right outside your front door. Butterflies look as if they are dancing to the humming of the bumble bees. The birds are all singing their dawn chorus that wafts on the sweet perfumed breeze .

Bulbs are bursting into flower showing many different kinds of hue. It is nature's free gift to everyone a real Spring tonic for me and you. From this modern hectic lifestyle now Stop! and linger - then take note of the beauty all around you here in your own special little spot. You'll feel the tension in your body ease refreshed and happy ready for the day as you find out life can be quite sweet Through the Merry Month of May.

By Eila Webster

