

The Mid-Summer Days in July

*Its July we're in mid-summer
Full of happy halcyon days;
Filling all the leisure hours
In many different ways.*

*We all need a while just to relax
And July seems the perfect time;
To dump bad habits, fear and woe
So read this simple rhyme.*

*Seaside joys are calling
Building castles in the sand;
Getting on your bikini now
Hoping you'll soon get tanned.*

*Folk say that I am good with words
They just come out of the blue;
So I thought I would pen these lines
Hoping they might benefit you.*

*Or attending fete's and fairs
Eating ice cream and candy floss;
Just doing what you fancy
As you give the coins a toss.*

*When taking up the oar again
Leave behind all care and strife;
You'll be refreshed and ready
To face the challenges of life.*

*Or climbing up a mountain
Admiring the wonderful view;
Maybe sailing in calm waters
When the sea and skies are blue.*

By Eila Webster 2016

